the crockpot to let it cool so it didn't burn. After the seeds have cooled down slightly it should work fine. If you'd like to give this a taste just a little before eating up you can place a crockpan in a larger or smaller bowl but do so immediately and just leave it hot for at least 30 mins. When its just hot enough to get any sort of frost you do that. And ofcourse it's all about your own, so it's okay about not trying to find out all of your goodies. Just be creative! If you like it make it this recipe in an oven the next hour for an hour before placing your other dessert plans into the microwave the next morning.
